

We think of the future from where we are.

=====Parallel=====

We think of the future from where we could be.

The NEW is rehashed----> {(this means...when in the future(?) mostly things just repeat themselves)}

And transformation is slow_____

Always progress. The body evolves into harmonious hybrid between carbon and silicon. One with the natural and virtual. The body masters it's environment.-.the mind expands to master communication. We redefine what is outer and inner; thoughts captured on external memory units, emotion chips. Manmade hard][drives infused with self-generating blood | endlessly looping DNA codes | powered by wind/solar/algae.

Children [(: who are the future)] have their own inner image for the words:

Friends

Phone

Internet

Hang out

Alone

They cannot perceive of a time in the future when things will be different. When their hands will reach on to hold other habits.

The Future: Why?

:) :) :) To find comfort and control that which could be made smarter-social-healthy-safe-
That our collective minds are still full of trouble-solving ideas and that we have not exhausted our communal and individual capabilities.

:(:(:(Because we are motivated by survival instincts that rarely overcome our comfort seeking.
